Bradford Parent Partnership Service (SEN)

The Bradford Parent Partnership Service (SEN) is a service for all parents/carers of children and young people who have, or may have, special educational needs.

If you think your child needs extra help at school, the Parent Partnership Service offers independent advice, support and information.

The service is jointly funded by Barnardo's and Education Bradford, with active support from parents and voluntary organisations across the Bradford district.

Please get in touch if you think we can help.

The service can:

- Help parents to get the best education for their child(ren).
- Encourage parents of children with special educational needs to take an active role in decisions about their child's education.
- Encourage parents, schools, Education Bradford and local voluntary and statutory agencies to work together to improve educational opportunities for children and young people with special educational needs.
- Work for change at a national and local level which recognises the right of parents to have an increased say in their children's education and in making special needs policy.

We welcome all enquiries.
